

Creating Winning Relationships Through Sports: Using Athletics to Strengthen Families

About the Author Jose Rijo-Berger is president of Rijo Athletics in Woodinville, Washington, a former professional baseball player with the New York Mets, and a current scout for the St. Louis Cardinals. In 1999 he pursued his dream to start a baseball and softball training facility which today serves thousands of students annually and produces more collegiate and professional ballplayers than any other program in the region. At Rijo Athletics, Jose is blessed to work with the best staff in America. Their professionalism and commitment to kids are great examples for everyone involved in the sports community. Jose lives in Woodinville with his wife, Rebecca, and children Nico, Nevaeh, Giana, and Teyo. We live in a culture that emphasizes winning, often at a cost. Jose Rijo-Berger emphasizes the importance of the journey. Its less about working toward the mere win on the scoreboard and more about what it takes for young athletes to become their best selves. Its a unique approach that only a pro ballplayer turned business owner, coach, dedicated father, and mentor can provide. -Mary M. McCain Millions of parents sign up their kids to play organized sports each year with the intent that the experience will be both positive and enriching, on and off the field, for their family. Too often, this ideal fails to materialize, much to the frustration of everyone. Based on experiences with thousands of families, Jose will show you the true value of sports in the lives of children and provide specific steps you can take to enrich your relationship with your son or daughter. Creating Winning Relationships Through Sports is for all parents regardless of the sport their child plays. As a parent, your behaviors and actions go a long way toward creating a positive or negative experience for your child. This book provides clarity and insight about how to use sports to strengthen your relationship and teach your child the values and skills that will carry him through life. Are you ready to begin? For more information go to www.rijoathletics.com
